The bar Palmetto, lying at the Gas Company's wharf, was [illegible] badly, losing her starboard [illegible] main and mizzen channels, and [illegible] other damage. The new wharf built for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, at the foot of Townsend street, was badly injured by the storm, the waves undermining the [illegible] almost the whole length of it, settling it about four feet in the deepest water. The damage is great, but as yet it is impossible to estimate it. At Beale street wharf the British bark Bogota dragged her anchor and carried away her starboard fore channels. At Howard street wharf a number of accidents took place. The scow schooner Greenfield lost her bowsprit and foremast, filled with water and [illegible] lying deck to. Bark Carlotta came in collision with the bark Adelaide Cooper; the former losing her stern rail, wheel and spanker boom, besides chafing her counter badly. The Adelaide Cooper lost her bowsprit, foremast, gallant mast, and had her headworks considerably damaged. A number of vessels were damaged more or less by chafing at the wharves. On shore, the violence of the storm shook many houses, alarming their [illegible] but, so far as is known, no serious injuries have occurred. Parties interested in the lumber trade are fearful of severe losses at the lumber ports north of this city. There are a number of vessels on the way from Portland, and several of them must have been unloading at different points along the coast when the storm set in. A peculiarity of the gale of last night was the accompaniment of thunder and lightning.

A Sober Word on a New Subject.

The Sabbath School Festival and Christmas Tree at Independence Hall on Christmas Eve, was an occasion worthy of more than a passing notice or the brief mention of a newspaper paragraph. At an early hour the large hall was thronged with little ones, all eager to see the handsome display their teachers and friends had provided to cheer their young hearts. Nor were they disappointed when at a given signal the large flags which had concealed the Tree from view were drawn to one side, and as if by magic, the enchanting scene was presented to view. There was a large Cedar Tree not less than twelve feet high whose wide spreading branches were heavily laden with choice gifts and beautiful presents, and beside it, apparently perched among the boughs, stood the veritable Santa Claus himself, grotesquely accoutred and merrily jingling his sleigh-bells. The exercises opened with fine singing by the entire school, and the merry voices rang high and clear with Sabbath melody. Then came the distribution of the presents, plucked one by one from the Tree, which was handsomely illuminated by a hundred wax tapers. Such a profusion of gifts is rarely seen even at Christmas gatherings: Dolls, wagons, guns, swords, horses, knives, trinkets, toys of every name and of no name, not to omit the beautifully bound volumes and multitudinous sacks of bon-bons and candies. For each scholar, from the grown up miss to the infant prattling, the thoughtful care of the teachers had provided a neat, and in not a few instances costly present, all appropriate to the time, the occasion and the recipients. As the joyous little ones came forward when their names were called, parents and friends of the school, who were there in goodly numbers, smiled approvingly on the scene.

At the close of the many presentations, and when the bountiful Tree had been stripped of its gifts, Judge Titus, in one of his neatest speeches, presented to the Superintendent on behalf of the School and Bible class, two very beautiful gifts, which were appropriately received by the donee. The latter then in a brief address urged upon parents and the friends of the school the importance of bestowing more attention on this enterprise. And it is to this part of the exercises we desire just now more particularly to call attention. Amid difficulties, which must be encountered to be fully appreciated, this Sabbath School was orgauized less than two years ago. From the little nucleus of a half dozen then gathered together by the Rev. Norman McCloud, the school prospered and soon numbered upwards of two hundred scholars. Latterly there had been a great falling off in the attendance, occasioned, as the Superintendent remarked, mainly, by the want of teachers and the lack of intesest manifested by parents.

The school numbers now about one hundred and twenty-five, but there are but six or seven teachers regularly in attendance. Others come, but their presence is spasmodic, rather than continuous. The consequence inevitably is that the little ones are frequently in their places without anybody to look after, instruct or amuse them. The Superintendent called on parents and the young men and ladies of the city to come forward and engage in the good work. We unite our call to his. At this late day it is needless to rehearse or dwell upon the importance of sustaining and fostering Sabbath Schools—especially here in Utah. With the intelligent class of Gentiles who reside here with their families and little ones growing up, there are few, if indeed there be any, who do not recognize the Sabbath School as one of the most potent and important influences in the work of moulding society right, and laying broad and deep the foundation of after life and character. But the trouble seems to be, that while, perhaps, they do not under-rate the importance of the enterprise, they neglect the good work, and thus practically withhold their countenance from it. Perhaps they think that there are enough laborers in the Vineyard," but we assure them they are sadly mistaken and the little ones are growing up without the needed care, are trailing hither and thither, and want support.

We understand that the Sabbath school which meets every Sunday afternoon at two o'clock at Independence Hall, is in no respect a sectarian institution. No peculiar doctrines are taught or enforced, save only the simple story of Jesus, and those great moral truths recognized alike by all sects, and which lie at the foundation of civilized society throughout the Christian world. Sectarianism has been and will continue to be, we are assured, carefully avoided. In this view the friends of the school think they are entitled to the countenance and aid of every friend of morality, every parent, and every Christian man and woman in the community. The question is, will they receive the active assistance and support of those who have the time and the opportunity of doing great good. Just now the great want of the school is an increased number of teachers. Let not the little ones, who will soon come on the stage of action to take our places, languish for the want of proper culture and training, which can so well be had in the Sabbath School.

We earnestly unite with the Superintendent in his call for this sort of aid, so easily given, and ask our readers to think seriously of it. For it is, the Sabbath school is an honor to those who instituted and have maintained it, and should be fostered by every Gentile in the city, of every persuasion or creed. Who, and how many will volunteer in the good work? The little army don't so much want soldiers as they need captains.

Roscoe Conklin appears to have the inside track for the New York Senatorship.

The application for a writ of habeas corpus in favor of Mudd, was made direct to Chief Justice Chase, who will deny it. It will probably be made next to the entire Court, when its fate will be sure.

Congress has 7 or 8 special commissioners to investigate every subject, the most fastidious the Republicans could desire. That on New Orleans matters causes quite a flutter in consequence of charges.

A large number of Rebels are in the employ of the United States in defiance of law, they not being able to take the oath.

Collector Kellogg publishes a letter, in which he states that out of $21,000 salaries paid to officials in the New Orleans Custom House during the summer, $15,000 were paid to employes who served in the Federal army or navy, and the same ratio now exists. He prefers malicious charges and demands an investigation.

Stevens, of the Committee of Reconstruction, has renewed his avowed object, being, in case the Southern States fail to adopt the Constitutional Amendment, to bring forward some measure on which two-thirds of both Houses can agree, for the government of the Rebel States in such a way as to place the loyal element in the ascendency.

Lists furnished to the Senate show that 215 appointments of Collectors and Assessors of Internal Revenue were made by the President within four months, awaiting confirmation.

New York, December 24.

The Times' New Orleans special says the mission of General Sherman, although not accomplishing all that was expected, was by no means a failure. In the first place, they avoided all appearances of communicating with the Erench authorities by not landing at Vera Cruz and sought the Republican authorities under Juarez, whom they found at Tampico and again at Matamoras. The result of their conferences is in a joint plan of action which has been determined between the United States and the Republic of Mexico on the withdrawal of the French. Juarez will transfer his seat of government to a point nameless at present, which General Sherman informed the correspondent he, as a military man, considered well chosen. He said: Their entire plans have been laid before me, and I consider them upon the whole judicious and prudent. The correspondent further says he has grounds for believing that in case any fragment of Imperial power remains after the departure of the French, United States troops will be marched over the Rio Grande to support Juarez.

Baltimore, December 24.

Four negroes who were convicted of larceny were sold on Saturday in Annapolis by order of Judge Magruder. Twenty or thirty farmers attended. The bidding was dispirited by the presence of an officer of the Freedmen's Bureau, whom they feared. The first negro bought himself for $37; another was bought for $35, and two girls respectively at $22 and $30.

Paris, December 24.

Napoleon accorded audience yesterday to Bigelow, ex-Minister, to present General Dix, his successor. General Dix's remarks referred to the long standing and ancient international amity which has existed between the people and the Government of France, and the people and Executive of the United States. The Emperor replied, thanking Dix for his agreeable manner. His Majesty said the historical reminiscences to which you allude as having existed from an early date between France and the United States, constitute a sure guarantee that no misunderstanding will disturb the friendly relations which prevail between the two countries; the continuance of loyal and sincere understanding between the two Governments will be a great advantage to the industry and commerce of both countries, the inhabitants of which have already astonished other portions of the world by the marvels of their enterprise.

Paris, December 24.

The Moniteur says the French Government never received the dispatch of Secretary Seward of the 23d of December to Minister Bigelow in Paris, published with the official correspondence just sent in by the President to Congress.

Hong Kong, December 1.

It is reported here to-day that the French naval expedition against Corea, undertaken by the Admiral to avenge the murder of missionaries and other outrages, has been beaten off from Kurghan with a loss of forty-five men, and that the Imperial fleet has returned to Shanghae.

London, December 24.

The Trades Union in this city have resolved almost unanimously to place their organization at the disposal of the Reformers in the coming political contest.

Washington, December 25.

Marquis de Montholon took leave of the President to-day, presenting his successor, Berthemy. The latter made remarks of courtesy and friendship. He said, in confiding to me the mission to represent him near you, my Sovereign has specially charged me to make known the value he attaches to the relations of freindship which exist between France and the Unted States; to maintain these relations and draw them more closely, if possible, in view of the development of interests common to the two countries. Such will be the constant aim of my efforts, ahd I have firm hope to attain, if, as I am in advance assured, the Government and people of the United States entertain sincere friendship.

President's reply—Sir: Grateful affection to the French nation is the earliest, most known and most appreciated feelings of the people of the United States. We try to believe that no interest of either country requires arbitration or antagonism among them, while the intimate commercial interest tends to bind them together. As you observe, we have common interests in the advancement of civilization and humanity throughout the world.

Washington, December 25.

The retiring French Minister and his successor this evening dined with the Secretary of State.

An order has been issued that civil officers of the Government in New York ... to the memory of the ... ter by attending ... Information ... such a source as to ... lieves the report of the execution ... at the instance of Canalejas.

... constables have ... cruelties ... sell liquor ... have, that ... made complaints ... the Revere, Tremont, Parker House and Young's Hotel. Warrants in these cases were issued by the Municipal Court, yesterday.

Advices from ... which arrived here ... Rebel General Pulgar ... ember 16th, on the Fort below Maracaibo, in which he was severely wounded in the leg and taken prisoner, with 100 men. The steamer accompanying Pulgar, with several smaller attendant vessels, surrendered to the authorities upon the seizure of Pulgar. His remaining forces retreated back into the country and disbanded.

The Herald's Madrid correspondent, writing December 6th, expresses the conviction that the sudden appearance of Queen Christina in Spain from France may be accepted as a certain indication of a rapid maturing of a revolutionary movement. The Liberal tendencies of her ex-Majesty being well known, the question of who will come after Queen Isabella was canvassed in Contes. It is said Napoleon and Francis Joseph, of Austria, having been consulted, are in accord on the subject of the new ruler for the Kingdom.

The Herald's Montreal special says the Fenian prisoners who have been tried as American citizens and discharged for want of evidence to convict them, have signed a petition which will be forwarded to Seward at Washington, asking to collect damages from the British Government for depriving them of their liberty of over six months.

New York, December 26.

The Times' Washington correspondent says the Paris Moniteur's statement, reported by the cable, that Seward's cable dispatch of the 23d of November, was not received by the French Government, is incorrect, and adds: The reply from Napoleon to Seward's dispatch, above alluded to, was received by the Government on the 5th of December, which assured the Government of the good faith of the Emperor. In this dispatch Napoleon specified the time when the French army would be relieved from Mexico; expressed satisfaction at Sherman and Campbell's mission, and proposed to co-operate in establishing the restoration of the Republican Government, but thinks it will devolve upon the United States to maintain the Government. The Emperer also suggests that the election in Mexico be brought about by the joint influence of the United States and the French Government.

Intelligence was received here of the death of Lieutenant Wilson, 6th United States Cavalry, a son of Senator Wilson of Massachusetts. Lieutenant Wilson died in Austin, Texas, yesterday morning.

New York, December 26.

The steamship Cuba took out $420,000 in specie.

Charles Reade, the novelist, has commenced a libel suit against the editors of the Round Table.

The constitutionality of the civil rights law will soon be tested in a case now before the Supreme Court, made up in Maryland.

The steamer Allemaine, from Southampton the 12th, has arrived.

The London Times' Dublin correspondent says the intentions of the Fenian leaders are so check-mated that none but madmen would raise the Fenian flag.

Close search for Stephens is being made. The police are armed with breech-loaders. Artillery was to be stationed in Dublin Castle. Additional regiments have been sent into Ireland. Large quantities of powder have been seized at various points. Arrests are made continually; some prisoners had Greek fire in their possession.

THE Leavenworth Commercial of the 13th has the following items:

H. T. McCune, brother of Captain John S. McCune of St. Louis, President of the Keokuk Packet Company, was shot on Saturday last, about twenty miles south of Sedalia, the wound causing death in a few minutes.

Charles Minot, for many years General Superintendent of the Erie Railroad, died at his residence in Somerville, on Monday.

A special to the St. Louis Democrat announces the death of James Locke, a well known journalist of Cincinnati, which took place on Monday. He had lately been engaged on the local columns of the Gazette.

On Monday morning Rudolph Waltenspiel, one of the proprietors of the Galt House saloon, St. Louis, was shot in the breast by Dr. W. P. Heddington, and, it is said, mortally wounded.

The Postmaster at Los Angeles has kindly forwarded us the following:

Hardyville, December 3, 1866.

Postmaster, Los Angeles—Dear Sir: There is no mail as yet from Prescott. The Indians have the road in their own hands, and charge extravagant toll—they demand our lives for passing. We will not get a mail from Prescott until something is done to drive the Indians away from the road. A mail was started last Monday, but returned. It could not get through.

Truly, yours,
WM. H. HARDY,
Postmaster, Hardyville, A. T.

Summary of News.

Cave Johnson died at the age of seventy-four years, at his residence in Clarksville, Tennessee, on the 23d ultimo.

Senator Wade declared in the Senate that, if the Southern States failed to accept the Constitutional Amendment, he was in favor of applying the strong arm of military power, and re-organizing their Government on the basis of equal rights.

An earthquake shock was recently felt at the Dalles, Oregon.

Six hundred feet of the Poorman's claim, near Silver City, has been recently sold to a new stock company for $150,000.

Calvin B. McDonald, ex-editor, is traveling through the State of California delivering lectures.

The rumor of Carlotta's death is not confirmed.

Mark Twain is to correspond for the Alta.

There are six woolen mills in Oregon, and they consume every year about 1,026,000 lbs. of wool.

Theodore Parker bequethed 11,190 volumes to the public library at Boston.

The road between Cisco and Meadow Lake is open and in good traveling condition.

Ball's bust of Starr King has arrived in Italy from Boston.

Admiral Farfagut gets $19,000 for his share of the Mobile prize money.

N. P. Willes has had a paralytic stroke and is in a critical condition.

J. Ross Browne has been commissioned by the Lower California Land Company to make an exploration of that region. He has organized a party for that purpose, which has already commenced operations.

A mechanical horse has been invented in Paris, which is said to be equal in all respects to the live animal. The only obstacle to its immediate introduction into general use is the cost—ten thousand dollars.

Galignani announces the death, at Paris, on the 3d, of consumption, induced by wounds received at the battle of Pea Ridge, of Colonel W. H. Coyl, United States Army, late Judge Advocate of the State of Kentucky.

Mr. Julian, of Indiana, introduced a bill providing for the government of the districts lately in revolt against the United States. It provides for temporary Territorial Governments for all the Rebel States, except Tennessee, and suffrage to males without respect to color.

The solicitor of the Treasurer has now organized a complete corps of detectives to find out counterfeitors of National currency. Most of the counterfeiting is done in New York.

Patrick Torney and Rice Brewer, two miners, were both killed on the same day—the first in the Savage, and the second in the Florida mine—were buried on the 20th at Austin.

It is stated that Seabough has left the Stockton Independent and gone into the Alta California in place of Upton, gone East.

Consul Godoy writes to General McDowell that the government of Juarez is recognized throughout the States of Chihuahua, Nuevo Leon, Coahuila, Tamaulipas, Oajaca, Geurrero, Sonora, Sinaloa, Durango, Colima, Chiapas, Tabasco, and the Territory of Lower California.

The importation of woolen goods into this country this year amounts to seventy-six million dollars, against twenty-six millions in 1865. Is it any wonder that the woolen market has broken down with such an immense amount of foreign goods?

General Kilpatrick, our Minister to Chili, has taken to himself a Chilean wife.

A son of Albert Sydney Johnson has been elected professor of history and English literature in General Lee's college.

Mrs. Sarah Malin, one of the girls who cast flowers before Washington on his entry into Trenton, died recently in Philadelphia.

Col. Crawford, of Haddington, was robbed of $10,000 on the Philadelphia and Trenton railroad, near Holmesburg. The passenger who occupied the next seat took the money and hid it in his shawl. He was arrested, the money recovered, and he sent to the Doylestown jail.

Iowa is talking about a new Governor. Mr. Grinnell, the retiring M. C., Lieutenant Governor Gere, Adjutant General Nat Baker, Colonel Samuel Merrill, of McGregor, Judge Couch, of Blackhawk, and Senator Clarkson, of Grundy, are mentioned as aspirants by themselves or friends.

The official ceremony of laying the last brick in the lake tunnel at Chicago, was performed by Mayor Rice in presence of the Board of Aldermen and invited guests, numbering about seventy, after which there was a banquet at the crib.

Colorado Jewett beats all the congressmen in devising an ingenious scheme to "get shet" of President Johnson. He has prepared a memorial to Congress asking that Hannibal Hamlin be proclaimed the constitutional President; and he makes out his case thus: The Constitution requires each State to appoint electors; eleven States did not do so in 1864, therefore there was no election, and Lincoln and Hamlin hold over, and by the death of Lincoln the Presidency fell to Hamlin.

The trial of Henry Bird Lewis, one of the nearest living relations of General Washington, is progressing in King George county. He is charged with the murder of Dr. Rose during the late war. Eminent counsel are engaged in the defence.

And none, as yet, was heard to regret,
That he ever gave him a call.

He honestly deals,
And nothing conceals,
Regarding the wear of his clothes,
But speaks with the truth,
To man and to youth,
Which each of his customers knows.

Hence, friends, one and all,
Go to Anker's Hall,
Walk boldly—don't cowardly creep,
For there you'll find,
All obliging and kind,
With Clothing tremendously cheap.
